Dr. Dharmasthala Veerendra Heggade, Dharmadhikari of Shri Kshethra Dharmasthala is a well known visionary of our times. Born on 25th November 1948 as the eldest son of the then Heggade of Shri Kshethra Dharmasthala, Veerendra took the mantle as Dharmasthala Heggade in the year 1968 at a tender age of twenty.

Ever since Dr. Veerendra Heggade has remained a keen student of humanity, understanding complex nature of human behavior. He has been guiding the multitude of devotees visiting Dharmasthala and seeking solace with his wisdom and helping them to face the world.

Dr. Veerendra Heggade is married to Smt. Hemavathi, who is also engaged in social service more specially women empowerment. The couple have a loving daughter in Shraddha Amith married to a business man Mr. Amith from Bangalore. Dr. Heggades granddaughter Manya is very dear to Dr. Heggade. At the age of 68, Dr. Veerendra Heggade still works like a young man, keeping himself active for almost eighteen hours in a day. New ideas of social service and building the society come out from Dr. Heggade's mind all the time. People from all walks of life including planners, politicians, academia, administrators, the privileged and the unprivileged seek guidance from Dr. Heggade for bettering their works.

Dr. Veerendra Heggade has dexterously blended spiritualism with the materialistic world. He is a multifaceted personality excelling in service to God as the head of the temple, in administration as the chief of many programmes promoted by him, kind in thoughts and compassion in daily life to those who visit him. He is the architect of modern Dharmasthala. As the chief of Manjunatha Swamy temple he has implemented several unique programmes for the spiritual upliftment.

Within Dharmasthala itself he has modernized the temple administration and care for the devotees. As a result the small village called Dharmasthala has become a shining jewel in the map of Karnataka. Dharmasthala is the abode of Lord Manjunatha Swamy. Besides the temple of Chandranatha Swamy and a gigantic monolithic statue of Bhagwan Bahubali measuring 39 feet are also located in Dharmasthala. In fact the statue of Bhagwan Bahubali which was erected by Dr. Veerendra Heggade in the year 1982 for which act he is termed as Abhinava Chavundaraya. Infrastructures built by Dr. Veerendra Heggade provide quality lodging facilities to 20,000 devotees every day. The huge Annapoorna dining hall dedicated to the society in the year 1981 can feed 5,000 people at a time. The modern kitchen of Dharmasthala is well acclaimed for its hygiene, quality and service. It can serve upto 60,000 people a day.

Dr. Veerendra Heggade regularly meets common people to hear their grievances and guide them. He gives direct charity as per the need. He also provides charity to community activities. He has organized many a public programme like the Kannada Sahithya Sammelana, Thulu Sammelana (literary festivals), Kissan Mela (farmers fare) with aplomb.

Dr. Heggade is a connoisseur of ancient temple architecture, historical monuments and antiques. He has promoted Dharmothana Trust for renovation of historical buildings in the State of Karnataka. Till date more than 227 temples, Jinamandhiras have been renovated to their old glory. He has developed large museums in Dharmasthala to preserve the heritage of the country. The vintage car museum promoted by Dr. Heggade is a cynosure of the car loving public. He is a keen photographer too.

Dr. Veerendra Heggade has institutionalized charity by promoting several organizations dealing with multiple requirements of human society.

The SDM education society promoted for quality education of which Dr. Heggade is the President has forty education institutions under its management including Ayurveda colleges, Naturopathy, dental, engineering, medical, law, business management colleges.

Dr. Heggade, initiated mass marriage programme in 1971 where in eligible couples come to Dharmasthala for marriage in a group. The marriage ceremony is conducted for all the participants in the mass marriage by the temple free of cost. This has helped the poor people no end as they were spending huge amounts on marriages and becoming debt ridden. Sofar 12,029 couples have entered into wedlock in Dharmasthala mass marriage programme. This initiative of Dr. Heggade is now being replicated at several places in Karnataka state by other leading personalities.

The Rural Development Self Employment Training Institute (RUDSETI) conceived and promoted by Dr. Veerendra Heggade is a unique experiment in public, private partnership for social service. This programme implemented as a joint venture between Dharmasthala and nationalised Syndicate and Canara bank trains the unemployed youth and handholds them to become self employed. Started in the year 1982, the RUDSET concept has become a national programme with Govt. of India advising all the banks to open one RUDSET in each district of the country. The national academy of RUDSETI promoted by the Govt. of India has the honor of the services of Dr. Veerendra Heggade as its Chairperson. The Twenty Seven RUDSETIs promoted in Seventeen different states of the country have successfully helped more than 4,24,250 unemployed youth to become respectable citizens of the country. It trains the All India SETI Institutes directors for quality training.

Government of India through MORD has directed all the Banks to establish one institute in every district of India on the model of RUDSETI. Also requested the RUDSETI under the Presidentship of Sri Heggade to monitor the performance of these SETI's. A monitoring cell has been created with a chief Project Co-ordinator. At present 568 institutes are training unemployed youths in the country.

The Shri Kshethra Dharmasthala Rural Development Project (R.) (SKDRDP), another well known experiment of Dr. Heggade started in 1982 is engaged in organising the small farmers, the poor women into Self Help Groups (SHG) for accessing various services at their door steps. This programme has mobilized 3.72 million families in the state of Karnataka into 3,70,642 SHGs who have a cumulative savings of Rs. 1,892.00 crores and a loan turnover of Rs.16,114.00 crores. The micro finance, the micro insurance and micro enterprise services of SKDRDP have transformed the village life.

Dr. Heggade is deeply interested in sustainable energy programmes. All the guest houses in Dharmasthala have solar water heater installations which produce 100,000 liters of hot water every day. The streets of Dharmasthala are lit by solar lamps. The giant biogas plants in Dharmasthala supply cooking gas to the kitchen of Dharmasthala. Besides the SKDRDP has been encouraging poor people to acquire sustainable energy assets. So far more than 99,833 families have purchased different sustainable energy equipments through the micro credit programme of SKDRDP.

Another area of Dr. Heggade's interest is the prevention of alcoholic abuse. Having realized that alcoholic abuse is a true enemy of the poor people, Dr. Heggade has promoted Janajagruthi, a movement in which public opinion is created against alcoholic abuse. Conduct of scientific community deaddiction camps in large numbers have de-addicted thousands of labourers and made their families a happy home.

Dr. Heggade is the recipient of Padmavibhushan citation by Govt. of India, Padmabhushan citation by Govt. of India. The Kannadiga of the year by ETV, most important Kannadiga by Vijaya Karnataka, the Karnataka Rathna citation by the Govt. of Karnataka in 2009.
